

The Yale Initiative for the Interdisciplinary Study of Antisemitism

Professor Dovid Katz

Thursday, April 14, 2011 at 4:15pm

Photo by: IDA OLNIAISKY

“The Unique and ‘Successful’ Antisemitism in the East of the European Union”

Professor Dovid Katz is an award-winning researcher and author; the Chief Analyst at the Litvak Studies Institute (Vilnius); an Honorary Research Associate in the Department of Hebrew and Jewish Studies at University College London; and Doctoral Supervisor in Yiddish Studies for Vytautas Magnus University (Kaunas). He is also the editor of DefendingHistory.com. He received a BA from Columbia University in Linguistics with a specialization in Yiddish Linguistics; a PhD from the University of London for his thesis on the origins of the Hebrew and Aramaic elements in the Yiddish language. The new edition of his Lithuanian Jewish Culture recently appeared in Vilnius.

Free and Open to the Public!

Yale University
77 Prospect Street, Room A-001 (Basement Floor)
New Haven, CT

More Information: (203) 432-5239 or www.yale.edu/yiisa