The following article from Antifa.lt appears as non-copyrighted according to the website. Their coherent layout had to be changed in order to provide translations of the text in graphics files taken from screen captures of Facebook conversations. In every case where text from graphics is translated to English, these translations appear in square brackets under the graphic itself, followed by the captions and information provided by Antifa.lt . In some cases square brackets were nested within square brackets in order to provide explanations and words subject to ellipsis in Lithuanian. Apologies for the possibly cumbersome format of the translation.

To enhance clarity, three large centered asterisks (* * *) have been added to divide sections of the page.

Center for the Study of the Genocide and Resistance of the Residents of Lithuania public relations representative and head of the Lithuanian Nationalist Center Ričardas Čekutis: from Kudirka's Varpas to Goebbels (renewed)

Ričardas Čekutis, journalist, Chief Specialist for Public Relations at the Center for the Study of the Genocide and Resistance of the Residents of Lithuania, member of the board of directors of the Lithuanian Nationalist Center and one of the main organizers of the March 11th neo-Nazi march, doesn't shy away from making antisemitic, racist and xenophobic statements in public.

Čekutis is concerned about the “racial purity” of candidates for public office

January 28, 19:30

Ričardas Čekutis: “That's the reason why all candidates for political parties (not to speak of [stricter racial purity checks for people in] government) need to be checked for at least three generations back.”

Čekutis on the “Jewish-controlled media” [and the 2011 neo-Nazi march]

The image is a screenshot of a Facebook post. At the top left is a small profile picture of Ričardas Čekutis. To its right, the name "Ričardas Čekutis" is displayed in blue. Below the name is the text: "Kviečiu paskaityti objektyvų straipsnį apie eitynes, tautiškumą ir patriotizmą. Dabartinėje žydasklaidoje tai retas pilietiškumo pavyzdys." Below this is a link to an article titled "Vaiva Strikaitytė. Kovo 11-tosios eitynės ir nerimstantis šmeižto aparatas" with the website "www.tautos-balsas.lt". There is a small thumbnail image of a march. Below the article link is the text: "Kaip ir kasmet Lietuvos Nepriklausomybės atkūrimo dieną tradiciškai paminėjo ir Lietuvos jaunimas, uvių tautinio centro (LTC), Lietuvių tautinio jaunimo sąjungos (LTJS) ir Nacionalinio Fronto (NF) organizuotose eitynėse ir vėl susirinko apie 1000 žmonių....". At the bottom of the post, it says "Kovo 13 j., 18:47 • Dalintis" and "10 žmonės(-ių) tai mėgsta."

[Ričardas Čekutis: “I invite [you] to read an objective article about the [neo-Nazi] march, ethnic pride and patriotism. It is a rare example of civic-mindedness in the current Jew-controlled media [creates neo-Nazi neologism for Lithuanian word for media, ‘žiniasklaida’, by replacing the first element with ‘Jew’: ‘žydasklaida’ in the nominative case]”

As happens each and every year, Lithuanian youth traditionally commemorated as well the Day of the Restoration of the Independence of Lithuania. Lithuanian [bad copypaste by Čekutis here, he clips 'Lithuania' in his own organization's name] Nationalist Center (LNC), Nationalist Center (LNC), Lithuanian Union of Nationalist Youth (LUNY) and the National Front (NF) organized the march which again attracted about 1,000 people...

Čekutis on Roma

[Ričardas Čekutis: “There is this thing called napalm, it would solve all the problems, and then [we] wouldn’t have to pick up the garbage with our hands. If someone harbors the illusion of celebrating the ‘ethnicity’ of Gypsies, of ‘integrating’ or ‘educating’ them or something, then, people, you are truly not living in the real world. Marius, stop with the fucking Antifa propaganda, I’m getting nauseous... I understand that ‘fascism’ is worse than communism to you, but this could simply be a problem of not knowing arithmetic, but defending the Gypsy caravan, worshipping Jewish graves and other ‘pearls’ [of wisdom] causes concern for the state of your health.”

[Ričardas Čekutis: “About 8 years ago near the Reichstag in Berlin I was drinking beer with a friend: all these commies and all sorts of coloreds kept going by... And then unexpectedly a young Latvian couple came up, and the girl drew a small Latvian flag on the wall in Bordeaux-colored lipstick – we spoke, she said her great grandfather in the 15th W[affen]-SS division had fallen here in the battle against the commie hordes. Sooner or later the truth winds and we will see its triumph.”

Čekutis on the triumph of the Waffen-SS

[Ričardas Čekutis: “Wehrmacht soldiers actually liberated Lithuania from the planned deportation of 350,000 – they provided 4 years of breathing space. But the burlaks came back and polluted the brains of many, annihilating the conscious portion of the nation. But we are being born again, and that’s encouraging.”
