Even recognizing the large portion of truth there, what is written and the way it is written falls right into Respublika's hand.

I read the article, I was disappointed. Every bit of better news from Lithuania is nonetheless bad in Katz's eyes.

It's all the same to him no matter what the news is it's just a pretext to repeat anew the same old story. the real subject of this article is presented from the fifth paragraph on.

But people who don't know much about Lithuania who cast a glance at JP – he's poisoning their subconscious, essentially employing black technologies

[or “arts,” from the Russian phrase concerning PR and election campaigns – trans.]

And he’s doing this very intentionally, influencing the Lithuanian Jewish Community as he likes. It’s sad that my daughter’s favorite teacher of the semester is turning into a politruk [some disparaging term for Soviet politician? –trans.] manipulated by nobody knows whom.

* Lara Lempert Vytautas, unfortunately I agree with that. I didn’t want to belittle the influence of and damage done by Katz in my comment. I know from experience – I can’t communicate with certain friends living in Israel and the USA who have read his articles.

Sergey, I was recently at the Lithuanian Jewish Community, I saw Katz there, we greeted each other politely.

Katz claims Rachele Margolis is afraid and doesn't want to travel to Lithuania. it's not true: she's not afraid and wants to, but after Katz's articles her daughter won't let her.

* Sergey Kanovich He still does several seminars which, thank God, have nothing in common with politics. So it's not right to equate him with the Lithuanian Jewish Community. I recently met him and told him frankly what I think. You can't see and paint everything blackly...

Lara, there are matters which in my opinion have nothing in common with those writing about the events. The Margolis/Brantsovskaya "soup" would have been over a long time ago if those upon whom it depends wanted it to be. If someone is soaking their bread in the milk [dragging it out] in this situation, it's those who started but did not finish it.

* Sergey Kanovich But it seems to me that it isn't we and neither Ms. Brantsovskaya (and not Margolis?) who should be reporting the news about "the conclusion" of this [scandalous] story, but the prosecutor, or those citizens who [sicked] the prosecutor [on the accused].

Isn't it too much to hope for that the Kupcinskases and similar from the conserve party will suddenly hold a press conference and announce how they love and respect Fania and Rachele?
