

Comments (21) Hide

To leave a comment on the Kyiv Post website, please click here

- Per page: 1020304050

Ultra Hate | Jan 2 at 20:14

Want to see and feel HATE? Go to Israel and pretend to be Palestinian!
Or to Russia and pretend to be Ukrainian wanting to attend a Ukrainian school or church!!!

Link Answer Mark

Genocide denial by Israel's puppets | Dec 23, 2011 at 22:40

Harman's genocide flip-flop

While co-sponsoring congressional resolution HR 106 on the Armenian genocide committed by Turkey, Rep. Harman went behind the backs of her constituents in October of 2007 by asking then-Foreign Relations Chair Tom Lantos (D-CA) to bury the resolution. Only after her constituents discovered this through other sources did she admit to it.

But the explanations for her flip-flop made little sense. "This is the wrong time" for the resolution, wrote Harman. But she couldn't cite anything relevant in 2007 that had changed regarding Turkey, Armenia, or the Middle East since she signed onto the resolution a few years earlier.

Harman claimed that a genocide resolution would "embarrass or isolate the Turkish leadership." This claim came suspiciously soon after she met with Turkey's threatening Prime Minister, Recep Erdogan. Apparently, recognizing a genocide requires an OK from the perpetrating country's leader.

But Harman reached truly ridiculous heights by claiming—again, this was in 2007—that it was "obvious" that Turkey's "leadership" was needed for "resolving the Israel-Palestine issue." Turkey had never, of course, played a significant role in mediating between Israelis and Palestinians. What really caused Harman's genocide flip-flop?

Jewish groups and Turkey

AIPAC was (and is) one of several major Jewish American organizations that have colluded with Turkey to, among other things, defeat Armenian genocide resolutions. Israel, Turkey, and Jewish groups formed their m&#233;nage-&#224;-trois in the 1990s. Yola Johnston, Community Outreach Director for the Jewish Institute for National Security Affairs, has admitted that AIPAC, the American Jewish Committee, B'nai B'rith, her own organization, and "the Jewish lobby" have "quite actively supported Turkey in their efforts to prevent the so-called Armenian genocide resolution from passing."

AIPAC, reported the Washington Times last year, had "lit up the phones" against the genocide resolution when "the Turks" asked a "senior researcher" at AIPAC to do so. That "senior researcher" and "architect of the Jewish community's support for Turkey" was none other than AIPAC's notorious Keith Weissman. So the Harman-AIPAC-

Weissman threesome was at the center of not only a spy scandal but also a genocide cover-up.

And there's more. Yet another scandal may have induced Harman's genocide duplicity. Anti-Defamation League scandal

Harman wrote her genocide flip-flop letter to Chairman Lantos just as the Anti-Defamation League (ADL) was taking a beating in the U.S. and internationally for denying the Armenian genocide and helping Turkey lobby against Armenian genocide recognition. Human rights activists, principled Jews, and Armenian Americans had just months earlier launched a campaign (seeNoPlaceForDenial.com) that was to result in more than a dozen Massachusetts cities' evicting the ADL's so-called "No Place for Hate" anti-bias program.

The Turkish government was furious that the embarrassing arrangement among it, Jewish groups, and Israel was being splashed across the headlines.

Prime Minister Erdogan made a frantic call to Israeli President Peres, while Turkey's foreign minister reportedly warned the Israeli ambassador that "our bilateral relations will suffer."

Did Harman, who was certainly aware of this uproar, panic at the prospect of a further deterioration in the already strained relations between Israel and Turkey? Did she ask Lantos to kill the genocide resolution because Turkey would blame Israel, AIPAC, the ADL, and even Harman herself if the resolution succeeded?

Considering the timing, Harman's relationship to Israel and the genocide-denying AIPAC, and the illogical explanations for her flip-flop, it seems probable. Though the House Committee narrowing passed the resolution, Harman had to be pleased that it did not make it any further. Her appeasement of Turkey, however, proved to be in vain: Erdogan was soon calling Shimon Peres a mass murderer (January 2009) for Israel's offensive against Gaza.

Israel scolded and humiliated Turkey's ambassador (January 2010) in response to Turkish criticism and an anti-Israeli TV show.

Israeli commandos shot nine Turks to death on a ship that had tried to break the Gaza blockade (May 2010).

Erdogan has expelled the Israeli ambassador, cut defense ties with Tel Aviv, and threatened military retaliation unless Israeli apologizes and pays compensation for the flotilla killings.

But when, like Harman, one has few firm principles and has fooled herself into believing that a country such as Turkey is a friend, she inevitably winds up with yogurt on her face. No self-respecting institution would have considered hiring anyone with Harman's background. That may explain why the Wilson Center hired her. It has little respect for its mission or the American people.

Link Answer Mark

LES | Dec 22, 2011 at 10:47

Dear Jared McBride,

I was hoping for an answer to my prior questions (as I have seen other authors respond), but I must continue.

You stated, "The majority of this literature is published by the university press of the private Ukrainian university, the Interregional Academy of Personnel Management (MAUP)."

Please note:

Founded in 1989 as a non-state establishment, the MAUP consists of a .....

In 1989, Ukraine was still controlled by Moscow.

In 2010-11, Ukraine is/was still controlled by communists.

You stated, "In 2005, a number of Ukrainian intellectuals here and abroad also wrote a letter condemning the activities of MAUP."

Please note:

I was in Ukraine, several times, from 2005 to before 2010; and I bought many Ukrainian items (including Ukrainian books) by the main post office in the center of Kyiv. I have never seen the books of which you speak of.

Israeli foreign ministry satisfied Ukraine's leaders condemn all forms of anti-Semitism

December 08, 2009 at 18:45 | Interfax-Ukraine

Israeli Foreign Minister Avigdor Lieberman has said he is satisfied that Ukraine's leadership condemns all forms of anti-Semitism.

You stated, "On these tables they will find books with titles like, "Jews in Ukraine Today: Reality without Myths," "The Jewish Syndrome," and "The Worldwide Moscow-Jewish Problem."

Please note:

The Jewish card in Russian operations against Ukraine
Jun 30, 2009 at 14:15 | Moses Fishbein

The Russian special services continue to carry out special operations aimed at undermining Ukraine's sovereignty and independence. The members of the FSB and Russia's Foreign Intelligence Service were rewarded for their success in isolating Ukraine. In recent months, the number of personnel in the FSB structures that deal with Ukraine has increased by 1.5 times, and this increase is reminiscent of the 1950s, when the underground Ukrainian Insurgent Army (UPA) was active in Ukraine.

One aspect of Russia's special operations against Ukraine is the so-called "Jewish card." But first, a little history lesson is in order here. When did the imperialist gamblers begin playing the "Jewish card" on Ukrainian territory?

Moses Fishbein is a distinguished Ukrainian poet and translator, winner of the Vasyl Stus Prize, and a member of the Ukrainian Center of the International PEN Club and the National Union of Writers of Ukraine. This is a paper delivered at the 26th Conference on Ukrainian Subjects at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, on June 24-27, 2009.

Read more:

http://www.kyivpost.com/news/opinion/op\_ed/detail/44324/#ixzz1hFbgGIFs

In 2010-11, Ukraine is/was still controlled by communists.

Sincerely,

LES

Link Answer Mark

elmer | Dec 22, 2011 at 04:09

Jared, while you're focusing on a small bunch of kooks, you might also take a look at Dmytro Firtash, the self-styled "savior of Ukraine," who is Jewish, and a prime mover of the oligarch authoritarian state and the slide away from democracy in Ukraine.

There are other anti-democrats in his bunch who are also Jewish.

You might look at them also.

Is it fair to say that anti-democracy in Ukraine is a Jewish phenomenon? Of course not.

I'm still not sure why are you drawing unneeded attention to a bunch of kooks.

And I still can't believe you are a Ph.D. candidate.

Link Answer Mark

†Guest | Dec 22, 2011 at 16:10

You are bash Firtash every chance you get, he is an honorable businessman. Don't hate success elmer Ukraine needs successful businessmen.

Link Answer Mark

†Guest | Dec 23, 2011 at 06:28

velcum in Ukraine, as Yanusvoloch says.

Yes, I "are bash" Firtash, the self-styled "savior of Ukraine," спаситель України, because he is neither honorable, nor is he a successful beeznissmeny.

He is simply a monster, a thug, a crook, a jerk, a schlemiel, a putz.

Together with other such "beeznissmeny" he has been sucking the lifeblood out of Ukraine for his own personal benefit and wealth.

With Boyko, he perpetrated a huge fraud on the Stockholm Arbitration Panel, when Boyko, who was supposed to be representing Ukraine's interests as Energy Minister, simply rolled over and played dead for Firtash.

Not surprising, since Boyko hold a power of attorney for Firtash's assets.

Yes, Ukraine does not honorable, successful businesspeople.

Firtash is not one of them.

Stealing through government is the modus operandi in Ukraine.

Also, raidership - stealing businesses from people through government, confirmed by so-called courts.

I will continue to bash Firtash and Yanusvoloch and that whole banda every chance I get.

They are monsters. They need to be removed from Ukraine's government so that people in Ukraine can breathe free.

Instead of devoting the entire resources of the government in a stalinist system to destroy Ivaschenko, Didenko, Makarenko, Lutsenko, Tymoshenko, and the rest for that piece of puke Firtash.

Firtash is a sovok mafia putz.

спасибо жителям Донбаасссаааа.....

Link Answer Mark

†Guest | Dec 22, 2011 at 09:06

Many Ukrainian oligarchs are Jewish

Pinchuk
Kolomoisky
Yaroslavski, Surkis

to name the first ones who jumped into my mind instantly

The author should take a look at the literature the Russian church has been distributing in Ukraine. You can find much more hate there. MAUP is a follower of theirs.

Anti-Semitism is a much bigger phenomenon in mother Russia

Link Answer Mark

LES | Dec 21, 2011 at 21:55

Dear Jared McBride,

You stated, "As a scholar who lived in Ukraine over the last year".

Do you realise that the "flavor" of Kyiv and Ukraine has changed drastically in the past two years due to the Anti-Ukrainian government in charge? I wonder who your "mentors" were when you were in Ukraine?

Sincerely,

LES

Link Answer Mark

Guest | Dec 21, 2011 at 20:31

It is a historical fact that four Russian Jews, led by Lazar Kaganovich masterminded the 1932-33 Holodomor that killed 10 million Ukrainians. The guilty Jews have much blood on their hands.

Link Answer Mark

anti-Ukrainian hate... | Dec 21, 2011 at 20:03

Any manifestation of Ukrainians to achieve equality and control of their OWN country has always been labeled as HATE by those GROUPS who hate to see a truly free independent Ukraine controlled by the Ukrainian nation! SO WHAT HAS CHANGED? Its always the same hate singing choir! You know ...those that produce hate propaganda like the infamous : The UGLY FACE OF FREEDOM!!! For them -Ukraine's freedom will always be hated and UGLY!

Link Answer Mark

Guest | Dec 21, 2011 at 19:33

Certain jews do work against Ukrainian interests. Alexander Feldman is one of them

Link Answer Mark

†Guest | Dec 27, 2011 at 17:47

but he's against genocide except if it's against Ukrainians & their language which he refuses to learn even though he considers himself a "Ukrainian" citizen.

Link Answer Mark

Guest | Dec 21, 2011 at 18:36

This is called Freedom of Speech. When we allow the militant Jewish lobby to start telling us what interpretations of history we can and can't read, that's when we've got a problem, be it in the Ukraine, in France, or in the United States of America.

Link Answer Mark

Guest | Dec 21, 2011 at 18:32

Mr. McBride.

Please show the readers the article or any letter you wrote to protest Education Minister of Ukraine's Dmytro Tabachnyk's hateful racist anti- Ukrainian policies over the last 2 years, which specifically target hate at Ukrainians in Volhynia, your purported area of study.

Or the letter you wrote to protest the racist closure of the Ukrainian library in Moscow, or the racist treatment of Ukrainians within Ukraine and in Russia by Russians/Jews/nonukrainians in key government positions.

What freedom and democracy in Ukraine now ? LOL.

You are real brave man.

Next time target the official policy makers who are destroying the Ukrainian people and creating a dictatorship , not just some street vendors who clearly do not represent the Ukrainian people as a whole..

Link Answer Mark

elmer | Dec 21, 2011 at 16:37

See, the thing is, Jared, the paramilitary police in Ukraine, Berkut, already practice censorship.

There were t-shirts for sale in Kyiv. They had slogans on them:

спасибо жителям Донбаса
за президента пидираса or спасибо жителям Донбаса

за президента ананаса

Both of the slogans make fun of "the president," Yanusvoloch.

They "thank" the residents of Donbass for the jerk who is the president - or an "ananas", which is a pineapple.

Berkut, complete with helmets, face masks, flak jackets and everything else, conducted a "brilliant" military maneuver against the t-shirts and - confiscated them.

Now - as far as the "hate literature" which you write about.

It is wrong for you to imply, as you do, that what is done by a few dysfunctional kooks in Ukraine characterizes all Ukrainians.

Most of Ukraine's government are dysfunctional sovok mafia thug kooks.

As a result, Ukrainian people have essentially "gone underground" - rather than get beat up by Berkut.

There are morons in Zaporizhia who put up a monument to stalin. In response, a local newspaper put up a billboard picturing hitler with outstretched arms saying: "what, am I worse than stalin? why not a monument to me?"

They claimed that the "right" to put up a statue of stalin is part of democracy.

What is really surprising about what you write is this - the top oligarchs in Ukraine are very predominantly --- Jewish, starting with Victor Pinchuk, who make himself very, very wealthy through crooked privatization deals tied in with Kuchma. Then there is Kolomoisky, and the rest. Many of the top people in Ukraine's so-called government are - Jewish.

There is a Jewish business lobby/organization centered in Donetsk.

Yet - not a peep from these hugely wealthy oligarchs about the "literature" that you claim you saw.

It's not a threat to them.

The t-shirts are a threat to them, because they are tied in to the Yanusvoloch mafia.

One of the absolute gems, one of the absolute shining lights in Ukraine, is Vitaly Portnikov. He is Jewish. He speaks Ukrainian brilliantly. He also speaks Russian and other languages.

He is a brilliant proponent of democracy in Ukraine. He is knowledgeable, and extremely intelligent. As are other people in Ukraine.

Savik Shuster has a very well-known TV show in Ukraine. He is Jewish. Unfortunately, he loves to butcher the English language - but he speaks Russian, and doesn't speak Ukrainian, although he understands it.

You're right - it is unfortunate that the kind of literature that you wrote about exists. I doubt that anyone is buying it.

What is more unfortunate is that you wrote about it, and gave some unwarranted attention to a bunch of idiots.

And you call yourself a Ph.D. candidate?

The Ph.D's that I know are far more learned than that.

Link Answer Mark

†Guest | Jan 14 at 05:02

"It is wrong for you to imply, as you do, that what is done by a few dysfunctional kooks in Ukraine characterizes all Ukrainians."

I believe that's how you wanted to take it, not what he implied or intended.

Link Answer Mark

†Guest | Dec 21, 2011 at 17:45

Elmer, Ukraine is a vibrant democracy with a bright future with no more corruption than what you will find on wall street or in Washington/Moscow.

Link Answer Mark

†elmer | Dec 21, 2011 at 19:20

Utter hogwash.

Ukraine has systemic, ingrained horrible corruption.

And a totally dysfunctional government.

With a legacy stalinist judicial system.

How can there be a "vibrant democracy" when Berkut shows up everywhere, to confiscate t-shirts, to hold back the Chornobyl workers' protests, to prevent Tymoshenko's lawyers from entering court?

How can there be a "vibrant democracy" when people don't know who represents them in the Rada, and, in fact, the Parliament members themselves represent oligarchs?

How can there be a "vibrant democracy" when there is "piano voting" (absentee voting) in Parliament, when no quorum is necessary, because 50 of the thugs vote for 250 through their piano voting?

How can there be a "vibrant democracy" when judges, or their families, are prosecuted or removed if they don't decided cases the "right way"?

How can there be a "vibrant democracy" when, in the Stockholm arbitration, Boyko, the Energy Minister of Ukraine, AND holding a power-of-attorney from Firtash, simply rolled over for Firtash?

They perpetrated one of the biggest frauds ever in an arbitration - in effect, Firtash was arbitrating against Firtash.

You think there is a "vibrant democracy" when corporate raiders use the "courts" to steal businesses?

You think there is a "vibrant democracy" when animals in the Kyiv Zoo die for no good reason?

You think there is a "vibrant democracy" when poor stray dogs are simply cruelly slaughtered by the thousands, sometimes being burned alive?

You think there is a "vibrant democracy" when big shots (mashory) get to kill people with their SUV's without any consequences?

You think there is a "vibrant democracy" when the Minister of Justice, Lavrynovych, drives a stolen-to-order Mercedes-Benz, stolen in Germany, and then "made legal" through a corrupt system in Ukraine?

The list goes on.

Link Answer Mark

Guest | Dec 21, 2011 at 15:51

Mcbride is a hypocrite he only wants free speech for what he likes. Why doesn't that miserable son of a bitch talk about the jewish mafia that operates in Ukraine or the jewish oligarchs who have helped loot the country. That student of history should research the role jews played in communist crimes inflicted on the peoples of the USSR which also included jewish victims.

Link Answer

Guest | Dec 21, 2011 at 13:57

Most will have no idea about Ukraine it's vast history or it's cities. Many will no venture beyond the hotel, the pub and the stadium. I attended the match between Metalists and Everton in Kharkiv Over 2,000 Everton fans turned up to support their team. If Evaton lost they were out of the game for the year. They could not care and had no idea where they were or that they were the largest group of English to ever visit Kharkiv. They had no idea of the culture and considered it another eastern European Former Soviet State. They were interested in drinking beer, finding prostitutes and women and watching the match. Thankfully they won and left the next day in good spirits. By few stayed and victims other places in Ukraine. It was a in out thank you mam affair. Euro2012 may place Ukraine on the sex tourist map following in Czech Republic Prague. With most teams based in Poland I doubt that Ukraine will receive great economic benefit from the Euro2012 games. If political events do not find a form of settlement soon it will be a disaster waiting. It will also raise doubts as to the 2014 Winter Olympics in Sochi.

Link Answer Mark

†Guest | Dec 21, 2011 at 14:41

Completely agree. Ukraine will become a new sex tourist spot in Europe with cheap beer, pretty easy women, cheap flights and no visa restrictions. Perfect! I will recommend all my friends to have stag dos in Ukraine. Getting laid in Ukraine is very easy! The only downside is that sooner or later this will cause prices to rise and people become less friendly to foreigners.

Link Answer Mark

Read more:

<http://www.kyivpost.com/news/opinion/letters/detail/119367/30/page/1/#comments#ixzz1kHjBK1sO>